

Embroidery pattern for beginners and all levels
embroidery artists

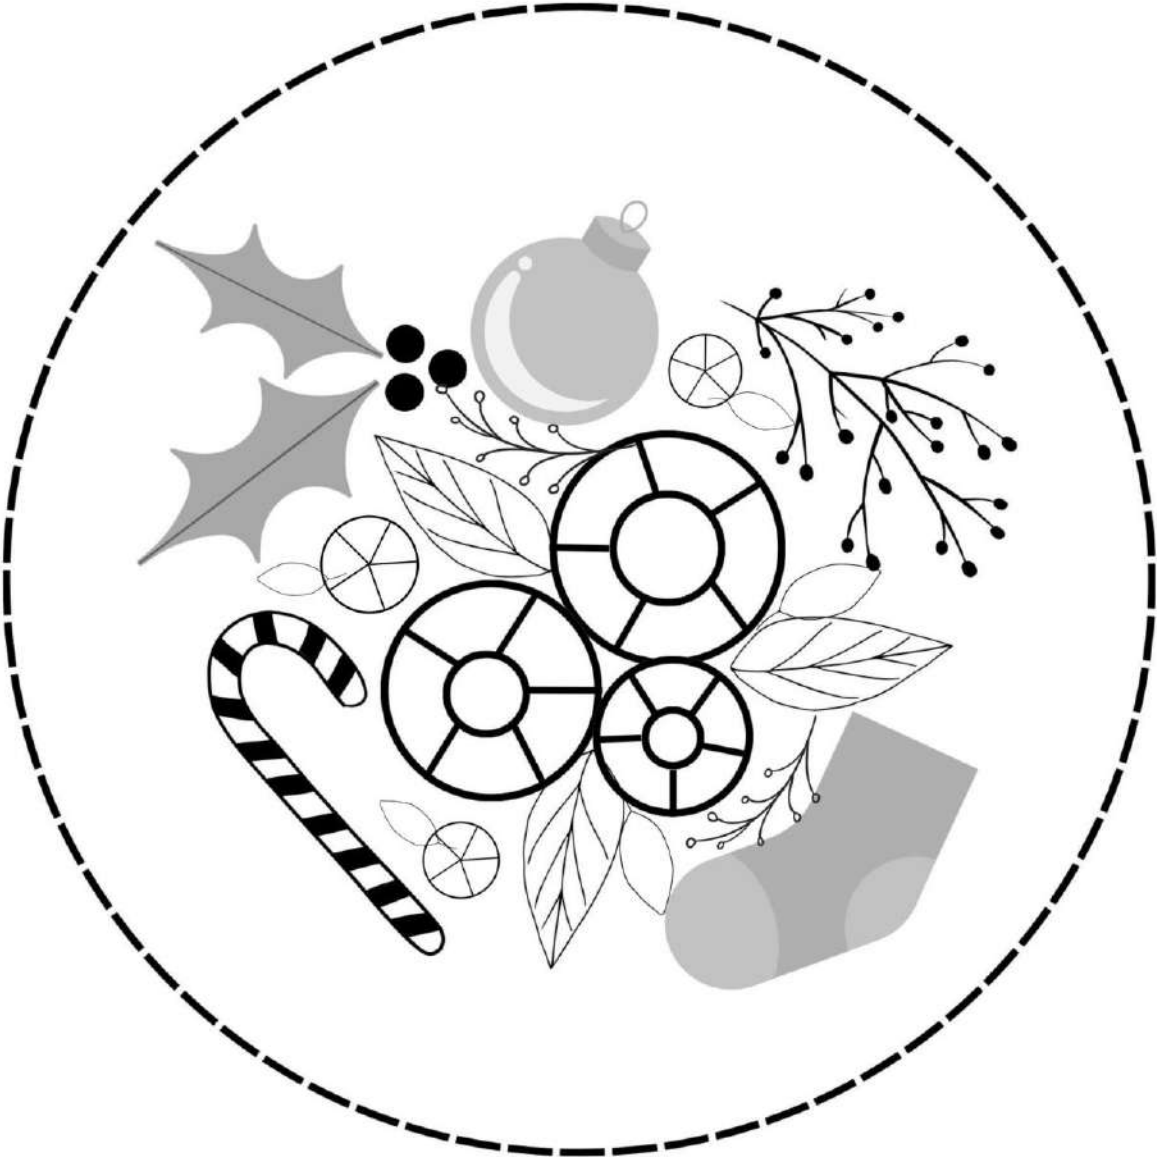

List of materials:

1. 15 cm hoop. (You can choose wood, plastic or bamboo hoop) I prefer to use wooden hoop because its natural and aesthetic.
2. Needle for embroidery.
3. Threads. I recommend you to choose 100% cotton threads. For this hoop I use DMC threads (Attention! This is just my recommendation; you can use any available colors.
4. Fabric. I recommend you to choose natural fabrics 100 % Cotton or linen canvas. For this pattern I used cotton canvas. (I used two layers)
5. Marker or simple pen for transferring the pattern.
6. Felt or craft cardboard for finished the hoop. (I used to felt for my hoop.) But it's not obligatory.
7. Scissors for handmade. You can use any scissors that you have at home.
8. Carbon Paper for transfer pattern
9. And finally you need my PDF pattern.

Color and Stitch guide

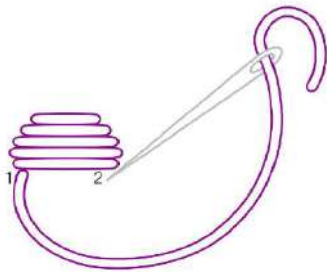

1. Back Stitch

Backstitch : The Backstitch is a simple stitch that can be used to create straight lines of any length or direction. Bring your needle up through the fabric. (1)

Bring it down a small way behind this to create a small straight stitch (2). Bring your needle up with a gap ahead of the previous stitch taking it back down where the previous stitch started. Continue along the length of the line.

2. Satin Stitch.

Satin Stitch

The satin stitch is a filler stitch that can be used to create a smooth surface and add large areas of color to your embroidery

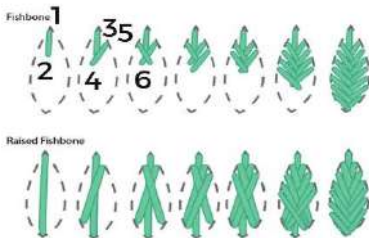

Bring your needle up through the fabric at a point on the outer edge of the shape you wish to fill (1)

Insert the needle again at the point opposite the entry point on the other side of the shape (2)

Repeat this stitch again, this time bringing your needle up beside the first stitch.

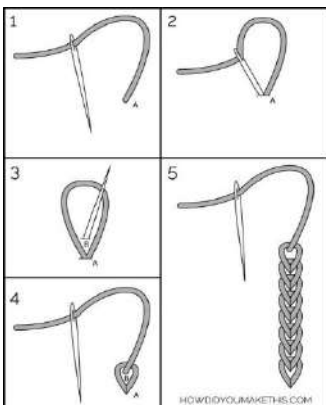

Continue this repetition until the shape is filled.

3. Fishbone Stitch

The fishbone stitch, made up of slanted diagonal stitches, is a filling stitch that is often used for making leaves or feathers. One of the most classic embroidery stitches. Up from the back to start (1). Down on the (2) opposite side to make a stitch. Up from the point (3) underside coming up next to the original starting point. Back down again (4) making another stitch and ready to continue in this fashion.

4. Chain Stitch

1: Stitch up through the fabric where you want your chain to start – point A.

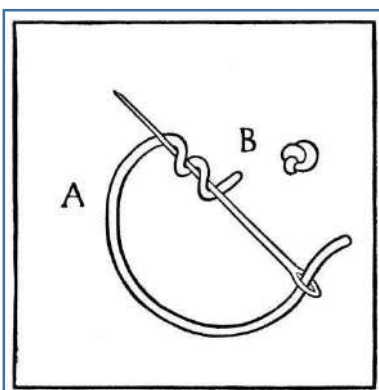

2: Stitch back down into the exact same hole you stitched up through. Do not pull your thread all the way through.

3: Stitch up at point B, making sure the needle goes through the loop.

4: Tighten the thread neatly, so that there's no loose thread but so that the chain loop is still a loop.

5: Stitch down at point B, continuing the same stitch up and down through the same hole, catching each loop of thread process. The back of the work will be a line of straight stitches.

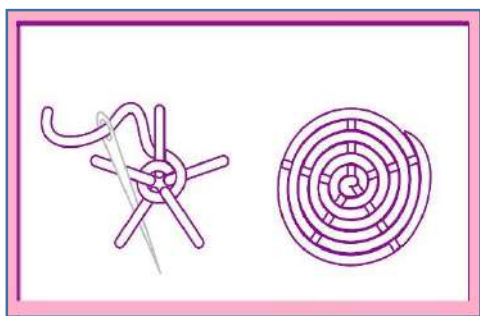

5. French Knot Stitch

French knot

Pull the needle up through the fabric. Wind the thread to make a knot. Wrap the thread around the needle two times and put the needle back at the same hole it just came through near.

6. Woven wheel embroidery stitch

Draw a circle and make 5 straight stitches evenly spaced out around the circle.

Come up through the fabric just to the side of where the stitches meet in the center.

Begin weaving your needle and thread under and over the spokes of the stitches until you have filled in the entire circle.

To end the stitch, simply bring your thread to the back and secure it.

7. And I use Woven wheel stitch + French Knot stitch for making flowers

At first you need to print the scheme and transfer it to the fabric. You can do using carbon paper. Also you can transfer image using your window, smartphone or tablet. Just put the scheme onto your window and then put the fabric. It'll be better if you fix it on the window with scotch tape. And then transfer the image with pen or pencil. And now you can start embroidery!

How to Finish

You've finished your embroidery.

1. Cut a felt or craft cardboard circle according to the size of inner hoop.

2. Pin felt to gathered fabric.

Overstitch the two fabrics together.

Pass the needle through the gathered fabric.

Then through the felt and back out.

Bring the needle back to the top of the hoop. Leaving a small gap, pass the needle back through both layers of fabric.

Bring the needle out. Repeat.

Congratulations! ☺ You have now finished your embroidery!
